Academic Integrity Consent Statement

The NCSU Student Handbook has a section called the Code of Student Conduct. This section defines academic integrity, academic dishonesty, cheating and plagiarism.

From FL110 Course Information Document

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY The Foreign Language Department takes the University Policy on Academic Integrity very seriously. If you do not already have the pamphlet explaining this NCSU policy, ask your advisor for one. In accordance with this policy, you will be required to sign the Honor Pledge on every exam that you take in this class. The Honor Pledge reads: "I have neither given nor received any unauthorized aid on this assignment or test."

In addition, please be aware that it is my expressed expectation that your signature on any homework assignment means that you have neither given nor received unauthorized aid. See: <https://studentconduct.dasa.ncsu.edu/academic-integrity-overview/>

Although you must complete and turn in your own work, you are encouraged to work with others in completing and preparing assignments outside of class, as well as some activities during class time. Such collaboration is authorized in this class. Quizzes and tests are the principal exceptions.

If you work with another student or get help from a tutor, please indicate this on your assignment. For example, in class, you will put your name and your partner's on the travail de classe. On your homework you might write, "My tutor and I worked together on this assignment." Copying or sharing of answers in or out of the classroom, from another student or from an answer key, without attribution, is a violation of the honor code. Please ask me if you have any questions about these policies. Do not give me any reason to be suspicious of your honesty. I will report violations of Academic Integrity to the Office of Student Conduct, and the consequences can be serious. The Code of Student Conduct is located at <http://policies.ncsu.edu/policy/pol-11-35-01>

I understand that the consequences of committing any act of academic dishonesty can include a failing grade for the assignment, failure in the class as a whole, and even expulsion from the university. I will not plagiarize or cheat.

Directions: (1) Read through this statement carefully. (2) Ask me if there is anything you do not understand. (3) Sign the sheet. (4) Return it to me.

Pledge: I have read and understand the statements above and agree to abide by the standards of academic integrity in the North Carolina State University Code of Student Conduct and Regulation.
